Carleen Petrosian

Content:

Great idea, communicated and illustrated well! Design elements are also decently grounded in concepts from the course, although I would have preferred to also see those recapped in the Design Rationale section instead of scattered throughout the design. Still, at least the pieces are there and it's a matter of rearrangement. 57/60

Writing: Overall, pretty good here. Interesting ideas throughout your project. However, look for ways to simplify your sentences. It's all about clarity when presenting your research. 38/40

Spotify is a digital music service that enables users to listen to millions of different songs, from various record labels,

In addition, the app is very social. You can follow your friends' profiles and be able to view their public playlists and what songs they have been listening to recently.

The most appropriate situation for when this feature would be used, is when the user is at location where a song is playing, and he or she likes the song, but does not know what the name of it is.

Rene Rodriguez 12/13/2016 12:27 PM
Comment [1]: I will also say, and perhaps most importantly, all sorts of genres as well.

Rene Rodriguez 12/13/2016 12:29 PM
Comment [2]: These sentences can easily be combined into one coherent one.

Rene Rodriguez 12/13/2016 12:33 PM
Comment [3]: Not bad, but let's work a little more on clarifying this.